

🕒 4.00 pm–7.00 pm

PANEL 4 Diversity – an increasing discourse in the public sphere after 1989

Chair: Susanna Jorek (Leipzig), Jessica Steinman (Leipzig)

Sirarpi Movsisyan (Leipzig): Armenians in GDR: Migration waves and community formation

Jessica Steinman (Leipzig): From North-South to East-West: the Demarcation and Reunification of the Vietnamese Migrant Community in Berlin

Laila Elbaghzoui (Beni-Mellal): The Events That Sparked the Arab Spring: From the Virtual World to the Public Sphere

Susanna Jorek (Leipzig): Mapping contested cultures: Narratives of Black Life in the City Museum in Bristol

Comment: Antje Dietze (Leipzig)

🕒 8.00 pm

Concert

Johann Sebastian Bach: “Das Musikalische Opfer”, BWV 1079
Venue: St. Nicholas Church, Nikolaikirchhof 3, 04109 Leipzig

Saturday, 15 June 2019

Venue: SFB 1199, Strohsackpassage

Conference “Revolutions and Transformations in a Global Perspective, 1989–2019”

🕒 9.30 am–1.00 pm

Chair: Geert Castryck (Leipzig)

Chris Saunders (Cape Town): Southern African transformations, “1989” to 2019

David Moore (Johannesburg): Gone but not forgotten: traces of the Cold War in Zimbabwe

Dmitri van den Bersselaar (Leipzig): Transitions in Africa. How was “1989” relevant? A comparison of Ghana, Tanzania and Nigeria

Ulf Engel (Leipzig): A view from Addis Ababa: From “1989” to today’s revolution in Africa

🕒 1.00 pm–2.00 pm

Farewell lunch

This year’s summer school is part of a broader event and participants will profit from the co-presence of international scholars contributing to a conference on the relationship between the global moment of 1989 and the period since. We encourage all participants of the summer school to take advantage of this coincidence and to follow the debates also outside the proper panels of the summer school itself.

Venues:

SFB 1199, Strohsackpassage
Nikolaistraße 6–10
04109 Leipzig, 5th floor

Research Academy Leipzig, Villa Tillmanns
Wächterstraße 30
04107 Leipzig

Contact

Martina Keilbach

Universität Leipzig
Graduate School Global and Area Studies
Emil-Fuchs-Straße 1, 04105 Leipzig
Tel: +49 (341) 9730286
E-mail: phd@uni-leipzig.de
Web: <https://home.uni-leipzig.de/~gsgas>

1989— A Caesura in Global History and its Consequences

Within the International Conference “Revolutions and Transformations in a Global Perspective, 1989–2019”

Leipzig University 12–15 June 2019

UNIVERSITÄT
LEIPZIG

Graduate School Global and Area Studies

Programme

Wednesday, 12 June 2019

Venue: SFB 1199, Strohsackpassage

🕒 1.00 pm – 2.00 pm

Registration

🕒 2.00 pm – 5.00 pm

Opening and Introduction

Matthias Middell (Leipzig):
1989 – 30 years after a Global Moment

Stefan Troebst (Leipzig):
The Re-Balkanization of the Balkans? 1989 in Southeastern Europe

Besnik Pula (Blacksburg):
Theorizing structural change in and after 1989

Uwe Müller (Leipzig):
Regional disparities and regional politics in East Central Europe before and after 1989

🕒 6.00 pm – 7.30 pm

Keynote

James Mark (Exeter):
1989: A Global History of Eastern Europe

🕒 7.30 pm

Reception

Thursday, 13 June 2019

Venue: SFB 1199, Strohsackpassage

🕒 9.00 am – 12.00 pm

Conference “Revolutions and Transformations in a Global Perspective, 1989–2019”

Chair: Edoardo Tortarolo (Turin)

Katja Naumann (Leipzig): Regional and transregional patterns of social science research and research planning before and after 1989

Ned Richardson-Little (Erfurt): The Revolutions of 1989 in Eastern Europe and the Transformation of Illicit Global Markets

Shamasul Haque (Srinagar): Globalization and Conflict Resolution in the Contemporary Muslim World

Frank Hadler (Leipzig): Expectation vs. Explanation? Eastern Europe Future seen from the West before and after 1989

🕒 12.00 pm – 2.00 pm

Lunch Break (Villa Tillmanns)

Venue: Research Academy Leipzig, Villa Tillmanns

🕒 1.30 pm – 2.00 pm

Introduction Summer School

Beata Hock (Leipzig): Foreign foundations and the uses of Eastern European culture

🕒 2.00 pm – 4.30 pm

PANEL 1 Unspoken and Direct Implications of 1989

Chair: Alexandra Ghit (Budapest)

Bence Kocsev (Leipzig): Transformation in Eastern and Central Europe: Implications and Effects of 1989 on East-South Relations

Karolina Baraniak (Wroclaw): 1989 as a time of transitional justice after authoritarian rule – the case of Poland and Chile

Miloš Milovanović (Bijeljina): Berlin Wall as the foundation of Yugoslavia: The disappearance in the whirlwind of war

Marie Phamova (Prague): Agricultural transformation after economic reforms 1986s in sub-urban Hanoi

Comment: Katja Naumann (Leipzig)

Coffee Break

🕒 5.00 pm – 7.00 pm

PANEL 2 The Politics of Imagining Tiananmen

Chair: Thorben Pelzer (Leipzig)

Daniel Palm (Bremen): Seizing the Square

Jordan Oelke (Leipzig): Energopolitics of ‘Political Re-education’ in China – A Han Perspective in Xinjiang

Thorben Pelzer (Leipzig): Three Ludic Commentaries on Tiananmen

Comment: Elisabeth Kaske (Leipzig)

🕒 7.00 pm – 10.30 pm

Summer Party

with Barbecue and Drinks
Venue: *Global and European Studies Institute,
Emil-Fuchs-Straße 1, 04105 Leipzig*

Friday, 14 June 2019

Venue: SFB 1199, Strohsackpassage

🕒 9.00 am – 12.00 pm

Conference “Revolutions and Transformations in a Global Perspective, 1989–2019”

Chair: David Simo (Yaoundé)

Robin Möser (Leipzig): Reverting to the Region: South Africa’s accession to the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty and the roots of an African Nuclear Weapons Free Zone, 1988–1991

Anna-Mart Van Wyck (Johannesburg): The end of the Cold War and its impact on global nuclear disarmament

Flavia Gasbarri (London): The 1989 Global Transformation and the African crises of the 1990’s

Timothy Scarnecchia (Kent): Shifting US diplomatic responses to 1989 in Southern Africa

Lunch Break (Villa Tillmanns)

Venue: Research Academy Leipzig, Villa Tillmanns

🕒 1.00 pm – 3.30 pm

PANEL 3 Populism, Anarchism, Protest Movements as a Consequence of 1989

Chair: Adamantios Skordos (Leipzig)

Stefan Telle (Leipzig): 1989–2019: From the End of History to the Golden Straitjacket and back?

Jonathan Eibisch (Jena): A revival of anarchism as the logical consequence of 1989, 2001, 2008 and 2013?

Chungse Jung (Binghamton): 2011, the Continuation of 1989?
A Comparison of Two Protest Waves in the Global South on the World-Historical Perspective

Luka Ekhaiva (Leipzig): Patriot Camps in Georgia after the Rose Revolution

Comment: Gilad Ben-Nun (Leipzig)

Coffee Break